National Data
( aggregated from across SPARC communities)
What about Columbus?
Black people comprised 22.3% of the general population, and 64.9% of the homeless population.

White people constituted 71.3% of general population, and 33.5% of the homeless population.

41% of Black clients entered homeless services from a doubled-up living situation, compared to 28.7% of Whites, and 32.4% of Hispanic/Latinx clients.
Qualitative Themes

For people of color, pathways into homelessness were characterized by:

- Network impoverishment
- Eviction, particularly as a result of fleeing violence
- Family destabilization
- System involvement (child welfare, juvenile justice, criminal justice)
For people of color, barriers to exiting homelessness included:

- Difficulty finding employment with a living wage
- Eviction and credit history and felony status limiting housing opportunities
- Burdensome rent requirements in housing placements

Qualitative Themes
Among staff of homeless service agencies:

- 63% identified as White
- 33% identified as Black
- 4% identified as more than one race
- 4% identified as Hispanic or Latinx
- 75% of Administrators identified as White
Among staff of homeless service agencies:

- 71% identified as female
- 28% identified as male
- None identified as transgender
- 85% identified as straight/heterosexual
- 10% identified as lesbian, gay, bisexual, or other
- 50% had personal lived experiences of homelessness
In response to their findings, local SPARC leaders work to develop Structural Change Objectives based on the following recommendations.
1. Develop or adapt behavioral health interventions, domestic violence programs, and other supportive services for people of color experiencing homelessness.

2. Redesign workforce development curricula to target skill-building for industries that are in demand and which provide livable wages with benefits.

3. Conduct expanded qualitative and quantitative data collection to better understand the complicated dynamics that drive inflow, outflow, and return to homelessness for people of color, especially families with children, Hispanic/Latinx households, and transgender and gender-expansive individuals.
4. Increase homelessness prevention efforts, including targeted eviction prevention, working with connected systems — criminal justice, child welfare, and public health systems — to reduce the number of people exiting into homelessness from these systems.

5. Investigate flexible subsidies. Many financial crises start as non-rent related, suggesting that for some people, flexible subsidies could be used to avert crises that spiral into homelessness.
A Place to Call Home: Framework for Action FY19 Strategic Action Plan - EQUITY
Equity

Goal:
• Ensure families and individuals disproportionately represented among people who experience homelessness have access to responsive, equitable assistance to offset structural barriers and biases.
Strategies:

1. Examine select homeless crisis response system policies, procedures and related data to identify areas to improve equitable access and use of homeless crisis response system assistance and to serve as template for other community systems.

2. Institute standardized cultural competency training.

3. Promote affirmative hiring and retention practices to further diversify system staff at all levels to better reflect populations served.
Strategy 1: System Policies/Procedures

Action Steps:

- Share results of SPARC analysis, including local and national findings, in concert with Center for Social Innovation.

- Identify feasible data collection and reporting enhancements to better monitor key system utilization processes and performance indicators by race, gender identification, sexual orientation, and disability.

- Implement data collection and reporting changes and further examine any identified system policy/procedure for disparate impact.
Strategy 2: Cultural Competency/Humility Training

Action Steps:

- Develop and provide training for system partner agencies and other stakeholders on intersection of racism and homelessness.

- Develop recommendations for standardized cultural competency training.

- Implement staff cultural competency practices to align with updated standards and training.

- Update system standards, policies and procedures to include recommended training topics and support system-wide training opportunities as feasible.
Strategy 3: Affirmative Hiring/Retention

Action Steps:

• Develop list and encourage all system partner agencies to distribute job postings to community organizations that serve unrepresented populations in Columbus/Franklin County.

• Develop and disseminate recommendations to system partner agencies concerning: 1) potential Job Description adjustments to education levels, core competencies, or other requirements to further support affirmative hiring, and; 2) recommended interview questions to system partner agency use to assess diversity, inclusion, equity competency.

• Explore potential incentives for system partner agencies for hiring formerly homeless individuals.
Columbus Coalition Against Racism & Homelessness (CCARH)
Columbus Coalition Against Racism & Homelessness

Mission:

• To bring awareness of racial disparities contributing to an increase number of Black people experiencing homelessness.

Objective:

• “To combat racism one conversation at a time.”
